

ArtWomb aims to create a safe and comfortable space for all to share original music and co create in impromptu collaborations. The stage will be facilitated by the Fill Inns who will musically support contributors and manage performance flow.

The ArtWomb stage is equipped with key instruments: a digital drum kit, fretless 5 string bass, stratocaster guitar, maton acoustic, a ukelele and a harmonium. To maintain maximum flow you are asked to utilise the instruments provided unless you need to add something that is not catered for (ie. Brass).

We do not offer specific timeslots during the ArtWomb session, but ask that you make your interest know on arrival and we'll find the right space for you.

ArtWomb offers a shared stage space where we endeavour to provide the opportunity for someone to lead through three of their songs or approximately 20 minutes. It is encouraged that after your first song you welcome other musicians to join and improvise with you or you are welcome to invite participation from the start.

Musicians are welcome to jam on with others where fitting.

The focus of ArtWomb is original music and we will ask contributors to share no more than one rendition of other people's work.
